Browser games were extremely popular two decades ago but gradually became less relevant over the years. Today s gaming market is dominated by mobile games, but new HTML5 titles still appear on a regular basis, and people love to return to some of the classics they used to play in the golden era of browser gaming, thus saying that browser games are dead wouldn t be exactly accurate.

The main appeal of browser games is the accessibility there s no installation needed and ; you can access the game from any device online, as long as it s connected to the internet and supports modern internet browsers.

Browser games are usually relatively short, taking anything from between 5 to 60 minutes to fully complete, making them ; a perfect choice when you re short on time and still want to experience some new games.

The horror genre seems to ; be working surprisingly well in such a formula, so here s a list of some of the best browser horror games ; for you to try.
