A tweet from Phil Spencer, Microsoft Gaming's CEO, read: We are pleased to announce that Microsoft and @PlayStation have signed a binding agreement to keep Call of Duty on PlayStation following the acquisition of Activision Blizzard. We look forward to a future where players globally have more choice to play their favorite games.
To address the FTC's concerns, Microsoft had agreed to license Call of Duty to rivals, including a 10-year contract with Nintendo, contingent on the merger closing.
On Sunday, Microsoft did not disclose the duration of the agreement with Sony.
From Day One of this acquisition, we've been committed to addressing the concerns of regulators, platform and game developers, and consumers, said Microsoft's president, Brad Smith, in a tweet. Even after we cross the finish line for this deal's approval, we will remain focused on ensuring that Call of Duty remains available on more platforms and for more consumers than ever before.
Microsoft has a deadline of 18 July to complete the transaction with Activision Blizzard although both companies could choose to extend that deadline.
