and marketing. The Austin, Texas-based company was founded by the Seider brother and his brother, who felt for the first time the need for a market that kept them cool and hydrated. The company's first product was a cold beverage called "Star". It was a success, and the company grew into a major player in the market. Today, Star is a well-known brand in America. - Business Insider
